Fisheries Infrastructure

Infrastructure is the backbone of marine fisheries and contributes significantly to the sustainable growth of the sector. Beginning from fishing harbours and fish landing centres, infrastructure includes boat building facilities, harvest and post-harvest equipment and cold-chain to support marketing of fish and fish products in the best possible conditions. Harbours and landing centres are crucial, as they provide safe landing and berthing facilities to boats, and also infrastructure for their repair and maintenance. They are the focal points of many key activities, such as fish auction and its dispersal to wholesale and retail markets and processing centres. They also serve as meeting point for stakeholders to discuss and implement fisheries resource management measures. The 2016 edition of the BOBP-IGO's calendar provides glimpses of fisheries infrastructure in the member-countries (Bangladesh, India, Maldives, Sri Lanka) of the Bay of Bengal Programme Inter-Governmental Organisation.

Bay of Bengal Programme Inter-Governmental Organisation (BOBP-IGO), successor to the BOBP, was set up in April 2003. It assists the governments of Bangladesh, India, Maldives and Sri Lanka and also other countries in the region in improving the conditions of small-scale fisherfolk communities.

Sample activities: Workshops, studies, training or technical assistance relating to safety at sea, MCS (monitoring, control and surveillance), EAFM (Ecosystem Approach to Fisheries Management), management plans on common resources (hilsa, shark), promotion of the Code of Conduct for Responsible Fisheries, climate change and its impact on fisheries, cleaner fishing harbours and 'safe fish', networking, information support through publications, posters and video films (<http://www.bobpigo.org>).
