The trauma of tsunami has inspired some remarkable child art. The beautiful paintings drawn by the children depict their reactions to a catastrophe like tsunami and how they view their immediate environment and the world after the tsunami. Some 280 children from 85 schools of coastal Tamil Nadu (India), Maldives and Sri Lanka took part in six on-the-spot art contests organised by the Bay of Bengal Programme Inter-Governmental Organisation during August – December 2005.

The theme of the contest was “Life After Tsunami” and some of the best paintings figure in this Calendar.

The printing of this calendar has been sponsored by the following organisations:

BAIRD Publications: Baird Publications produces six monthly magazines for the international commercial and government marine industries. These cover the designing, building and operations of the full range of shipping through tankers, bulkers, container ships, warships, tugs, ferries, patrol, pilot and rescue, offshore service vessels, work boats and cargo ships of all kinds, fishing and aquaculture boats (<http://www.baird.com.au>).

Bharat Heavy Electricals Limited (BHEL): India's largest engineering and manufacturing enterprise – is putting its world-class expertise to work by playing a crucial role in the nation's ambitious plan of adding 1 50 000 MW of power generating capacity in the decade (<http://www.bhel.com>).

Central Institute of Fisheries Education (CIFE): A Deemed University under the Indian Council of Agricultural Research and a nodal institute for imparting fisheries education in India and for students from Afro-Asian countries. CIFE also conducts upstream basic research in fisheries including aquaculture, biotechnology and other related areas (<http://www.icar.org.in/cife/intro.htm>).

Central Marine Fisheries Research Institute (CMFRI): Oldest and largest fisheries research institution in India, mandated to ensure resource sustainability and enhanced productivity through management, mariculture and conservation. CMFRI also conducts post graduate and specialized training, education and extension education programmes. (<http://www.cmfri.com>).

Network of Aquaculture Centres in Asia-Pacific (NACA):

An Inter-Governmental Organization that promotes rural development through sustainable aquaculture. NACA seeks to improve rural income, increase food production and foreign exchange earnings and to diversify farm production. The ultimate beneficiaries of NACA activities are farmers and rural communities (<http://www.enaca.org>).

PEPSICO: A global consumer products company with 2003 revenues of US$ 27 billion. Principal divisions include Pepsi-Cola beverages, Frito-Lay snacks, Tropicana juices, Gatorade sports drinks and Quaker Foods. Plans are to accelerate growth of beverages and snack foods business segments, with an emphasis on international markets (<http://www.pepsi.com>).

WORLDFISH CENTER: The mission of the WorldFish Center is to reduce poverty and hunger by improving fisheries and aquaculture. The WorldFish Center is one of 15 international research organization supported by the Consultative Group on International Agriculture Research (www.worldfishcenter.org).

Bay of Bengal Programme Inter-Governmental

Organisation (BOBP-IGO): A unique regional fisheries body that assists member countries (Bangladesh, India, Maldives, Sri Lanka) in increasing livelihood opportunities, improving the quality of life of small-scale fisherfolk and promoting responsible fishing practices and environmentally sound programme (<http://www.bobpigo.org>).

The proceeds from the sale of the calendar will go towards organisation of similar programmes for school children in the member countries.
